Designed and built by two professionals in the design and construction industries, almost every surface of this home is a piece of art within itself, constructed of either solid American Oak timber or polished concrete.

Distinctive design elements create a point of difference across this superbly crafted home. Timber graces such surfaces as cabinetry, ceilings, custom windows, huge wide sliding doors, while polished concrete extends across floors, bench tops, basins and vanities; all combining to create this truly unique home designed to be lived in and abundant with character and style.

Timber screening surrounding the street front facade conceals private patio decks connecting to both the master suite and elevated formal lounge, while two enormous sun decks open the home to an easterly and northerly aspect, for private entertaining or gazing across the course.

- Exquisite design by two professionals within the industry
- Modern coastal designed facade vastly clad in timber with weathered steel surrounds
- Robust polished concrete features heavily through floors, benches, splash back and basins
- Beautiful American Oak and concrete kitchen, laundry
